To A.S.

The fish curing yard at Malpe I is the biggest among the fish curing yards in this State having the heaviest transactions. It is a permanent yard. The D.I& C. has reported that at present there is only a temporary shed in the yard erected in 1901 at a cost of Rs.466. Apart from the fact that the shed is not spacious enough to hold the articles of furniture, weighing machines, fishing implements and other stores, it is not able to accommodate the office of the Sub-Inspector of Fisheries, Malpe I. He has further stated, that the shed is now in a dilapidated condition due to age and is likely to give away during the monsoon. As the roof is leaky, it is not safe to store large quantities of salt required for curing purposes. The Director has therefore submitted proposals to pull down the existing temporary shed and in its place to construct a pucca building of 41'-6" by 23' to serve both as a store room and as the office of the staff in the fish curing yard. The plans and estimates have been scrutinised and approved by the C.E. P.W.D. (Gl and Bldgs.). The cost of construction of the building has been estimated by the C.E. at Rs.7350. The C.E. has also stated, that the cost of the work may be debited to '50 Civil Works', if the P.W.D. is to take up the execution of the work and that, in that case, the provision of 1% made in the estimate towards scrutiny charges may be deducted.

2. It is submitted, that the building proposed for construction is for the use of the Fisheries Department and it may not be possible for the Engineering staff of the 'Industries and Commerce' Dept. to execute the ork, as the 'Fisheries Department' and the 'Industries and rce Department' are entirely two different Departments, the Head of both the departments is one and the same is therefore for orders whether the building may be ucted by the P.W.D. and the cost debited to '50. Civil Wks'

This may be agreed to the D.I&C. to construct a pucca building in the Fish curing acceptance of the proposals.

FINANCE (B.E.IV) DEPARTMENT.

The file deals with the proposal of the Director of Industries and Commerce for the construction of pucca buildings in the Fish Curing Yard at Malpe I at a cost of Rs 7,350/-. For the reasons stated in their notes on pp.1-2 above, Agri. have recommended that the proposal be taken up for consideration as a Part II Scheme for 1955-56 debiting the expenditure to "50. Civil Works". P.W.D. have agreed with the proposals.

2. The proposed work is a minor work as its cost is not more than Rs 10,000/-. The cost of such works is usually met from the lumpsum provision made for 'Minor works' in the B.E. for each year. They need not be dealt with as Part II schemes - Vide para 55 of Budget Manual. If Agri. consider that the buildings are essential, there is no objection to the proposal being sanctioned for execution in the next year, in which case the C.E. will have to be asked to include the necessary provision in the B.E. for 1955-56 (Part I). Note for circulation.

The file deals with the proposals submitted by the D.I&C. for the construction of a pucca building to house the office and sto at the Fish curing yard Malpe I in the South Kanara Dt. The fish curing yard at Malpe I is the biggest among the fish curing yards in this State having the heaviest transactions and it is a permanent yard. At present there is only a temporary shed erected in the yard in the year 1901 at a cost of Rs.460. Apart from the fact that the shed is not spacious enough to hold the articles of furniture weighing machines, fishing implements and other stores, it is not able to accommodate the office of the Sub-Inspector of Fisheries Malpe I. The D.I&C. has reported, that the shed is in a dilapidated condition due to age and that it is likely to give way during the monsoon. As the roof is also leaky, the D.I&C. has stated that it is not safe to store in the building large quantities of salt required for curing purposes. The Director has therefore submitted proposals to pull down the existing temporary shed and in its place to construct a pucca building to serve both as a store room and as office of the staff in the fish curing yard. The plans and estimates prepared by the D.I&C. have been scrutinised and approved by the C.E. (P.W.D) (General and Buildings) The cost of construction of the building has been estimated by the C.E. at Rs.7277 after deducting the provision of 1% made in the estimates towards scrutiny charges.

2. P.W.Department have no objection to entrust the construction work to the C.E.P.W.D. and to debit the cost of construction to '50.Civil Works'. Finance have stated, that as the proposed work is a minor work, and as its cost does not exceed Rs.10,000 , it is enough if the cost is met from the lump sum provision made for 'Minor Works' under '50 Civils Works' in the B.E. for each year and that it is not necessary to bring the proposals as a Part II scheme for 1955-1956. They have therefor suggested that the proposal of the D.I&C. to construct the building may be sanctioned for execution during 1955-1956 and the C.E. asked to include necessary provision in the B.E. for 1955-1956 (Part I)

3. The file may be circulated to M(A), M(W) and M(F&E) for approval of the proposal at 'X' on page 5 above.
